Colorado personal security expert and safety advocate reveals the truth about Colorado's sexual assault statistics, and shows Coloradans how to keep themselves safer. It's incredible to believe, but according to the Colorado Convicted Sex Offenders Site, "1 out of 4 women and 1 out of 17 men in Colorado had experienced a completed or attempted sexual assault in their lifetime."

"This statistic is unacceptable!" says Barbara Scott, Founder and CEO of Colorado Safety Educators. "This is why I leave my office to go up and down the Front Range instructing men, women, and children in a variety of ways so that they can protect themselves from being attacked and raped. We know that our safety programs are helping to solve this problem. With help from community leaders and event coordinators, I know we can continue saving lives here in Colorado."

By focusing on education and self-defense strategies to this universal concern, Barbara Scott talks in specific terms of immediate solutions to members of your audience.

Here are three tips to immediately increase your safety by 80%:

- Keep your garage door closed and locked.
- Lock the doors and windows to your homes.
- Lock your car doors.

Now, by way of this interview, the public has another opportunity to make their lives safer, that they might not become another Colorado crime victim statistic.

Barbara Scott, Colorado's Voice for Safety, is the powerhouse behind the highly popular public awareness safety seminar, "If you were attacked, would you know what to do?" She has taught thousands of Coloradans self-defense strategies that actually work. She and her public awareness safety seminars receive rave reviews by attendees.
